DETAILED ACTION

Title

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Revashetti et al. (US 6,^{230,199}~~122,625~~).

Revashetti et al. teach:

and col.21, line 63-col.22, line 13.*

receiving a unique code corresponding to the item at a first computer system; retrieving one or more characteristics corresponding to the unique code from a data storage area; and transmitting the one or more characteristics to a requestor; connecting the first computer system to a computer network;

wherein the requestor includes a second computer system, the second computer system being connected to the computer network; and wherein the transmitting includes sending data across the computer network to the second computer system;

displaying the one or more characteristics on a display screen connected to the second computer system; and modifying the one or more characteristics using an input device connected to the second computer system; sending the configuration from the second computer system to the first

computer system ;

receiving the configuration at the first computer system;

updating the one or more characteristics stored in the data storage area based on the configuration.

determining one or more compatible subparts for the item; and transmitting the one or more compatible subparts to the requestor.

(Claims 13-22) A method of upgrading/purchasing a computer system, said method comprising: see col.1, lines 5-11, 50-55; col.2, lines 5-10, 32-36, 45-36, 45-49, 55-62; col.5, line 55-59; col.6, lines 55-64; col.9, lines 23-45; col.10, lines 17-44; col.11, lines 5-15; col.12, lines 5-10; col. 13, lines 5-10; col.15, lines 10-30; col.18, lines 40-60; col. 19, lines 10-20; col. 21, lines 20-45 and col.21, line 63-col.22, line 13.

receiving a list of one or more configuration items in the computer system; determining a list of one or more components, the one or more components compatible with the computer system;

selecting a component from the one or more substitute components;

ordering the replacement components;

accessing a computer network, the computer network connected to a merchant computer;

displaying the price on the display screen;

wherein the ordering includes sending the merchant a purchase request for the replacement component.

analyzing an old computer system resulting in an old computer configuration; receiving new computer configuration data corresponding to the new
computer system;

comparing the old computer configuration with the new computer configuration resulting in one or more re-usable components; and ordering the new computer system without one or more re-usable components.

(Claims 23-24) A computer system comprising: See col.2, lines 5-10, 32-36, 45-36, 45-49, 55-62; col.5, line 55-59; col.6, lines 55-64; col.9, lines 23-45; col.10, lines 17-44; col.11, lines 5-15; col.12, lines 5-10; col. 13, lines 5-10; col.15, lines 10-30; col.18, lines 40-60; col. 19, lines 10-20; col. 21, lines 20-45 and col.21, line 63-col.22, line 13.

a processor;

a nonvolatile memory coupled to the processor;

a communication port connecting the computer the computer system to a computer network;

a computer program stored in the nonvolatile memory and executed by the processor, wherein the computer program operates to:

send a unique code to a second computer system, the second computer system being connected to the computer network; receive configuration data corresponding to the unique code form the second computer system; and transmit an auction description to an auction computer, the auction description including the configuration data and the auction computer being connected to the computer network;

access a merchant computer system, the merchant computer system connected to the computer network; select a new computer system available from the merchant computer system; receive new configuration data corresponding to the new computer system;

and

compare the new configuration data with the configuration data resulting in one or more compatible components.
